WELCOME TO LAKE TENKILLER

Where Tradition & Culture Meet Hospitality

Named after the Tenkillers, a prominent Cherokee family, who operated a ferry service near where the dam now stands, Lake Tenkiller is Oklahoma's only clear water paradise.

The nearly 13,000 acres of clear waters, and 130 miles of scenic shoreline with rocky banks and rock bluffs above and below the water, provide a great variety of scenic beauty, as well as opportunities for water sports activities and recreation.

Tenkiller Lake has 10 marinas and 20 parks managed by the State of Oklahoma Corps of Engineers, with all levels of campsites available. There are 24 boat ramps around the lake and rental boats for fun and adventure are available at most marinas and two state parks.

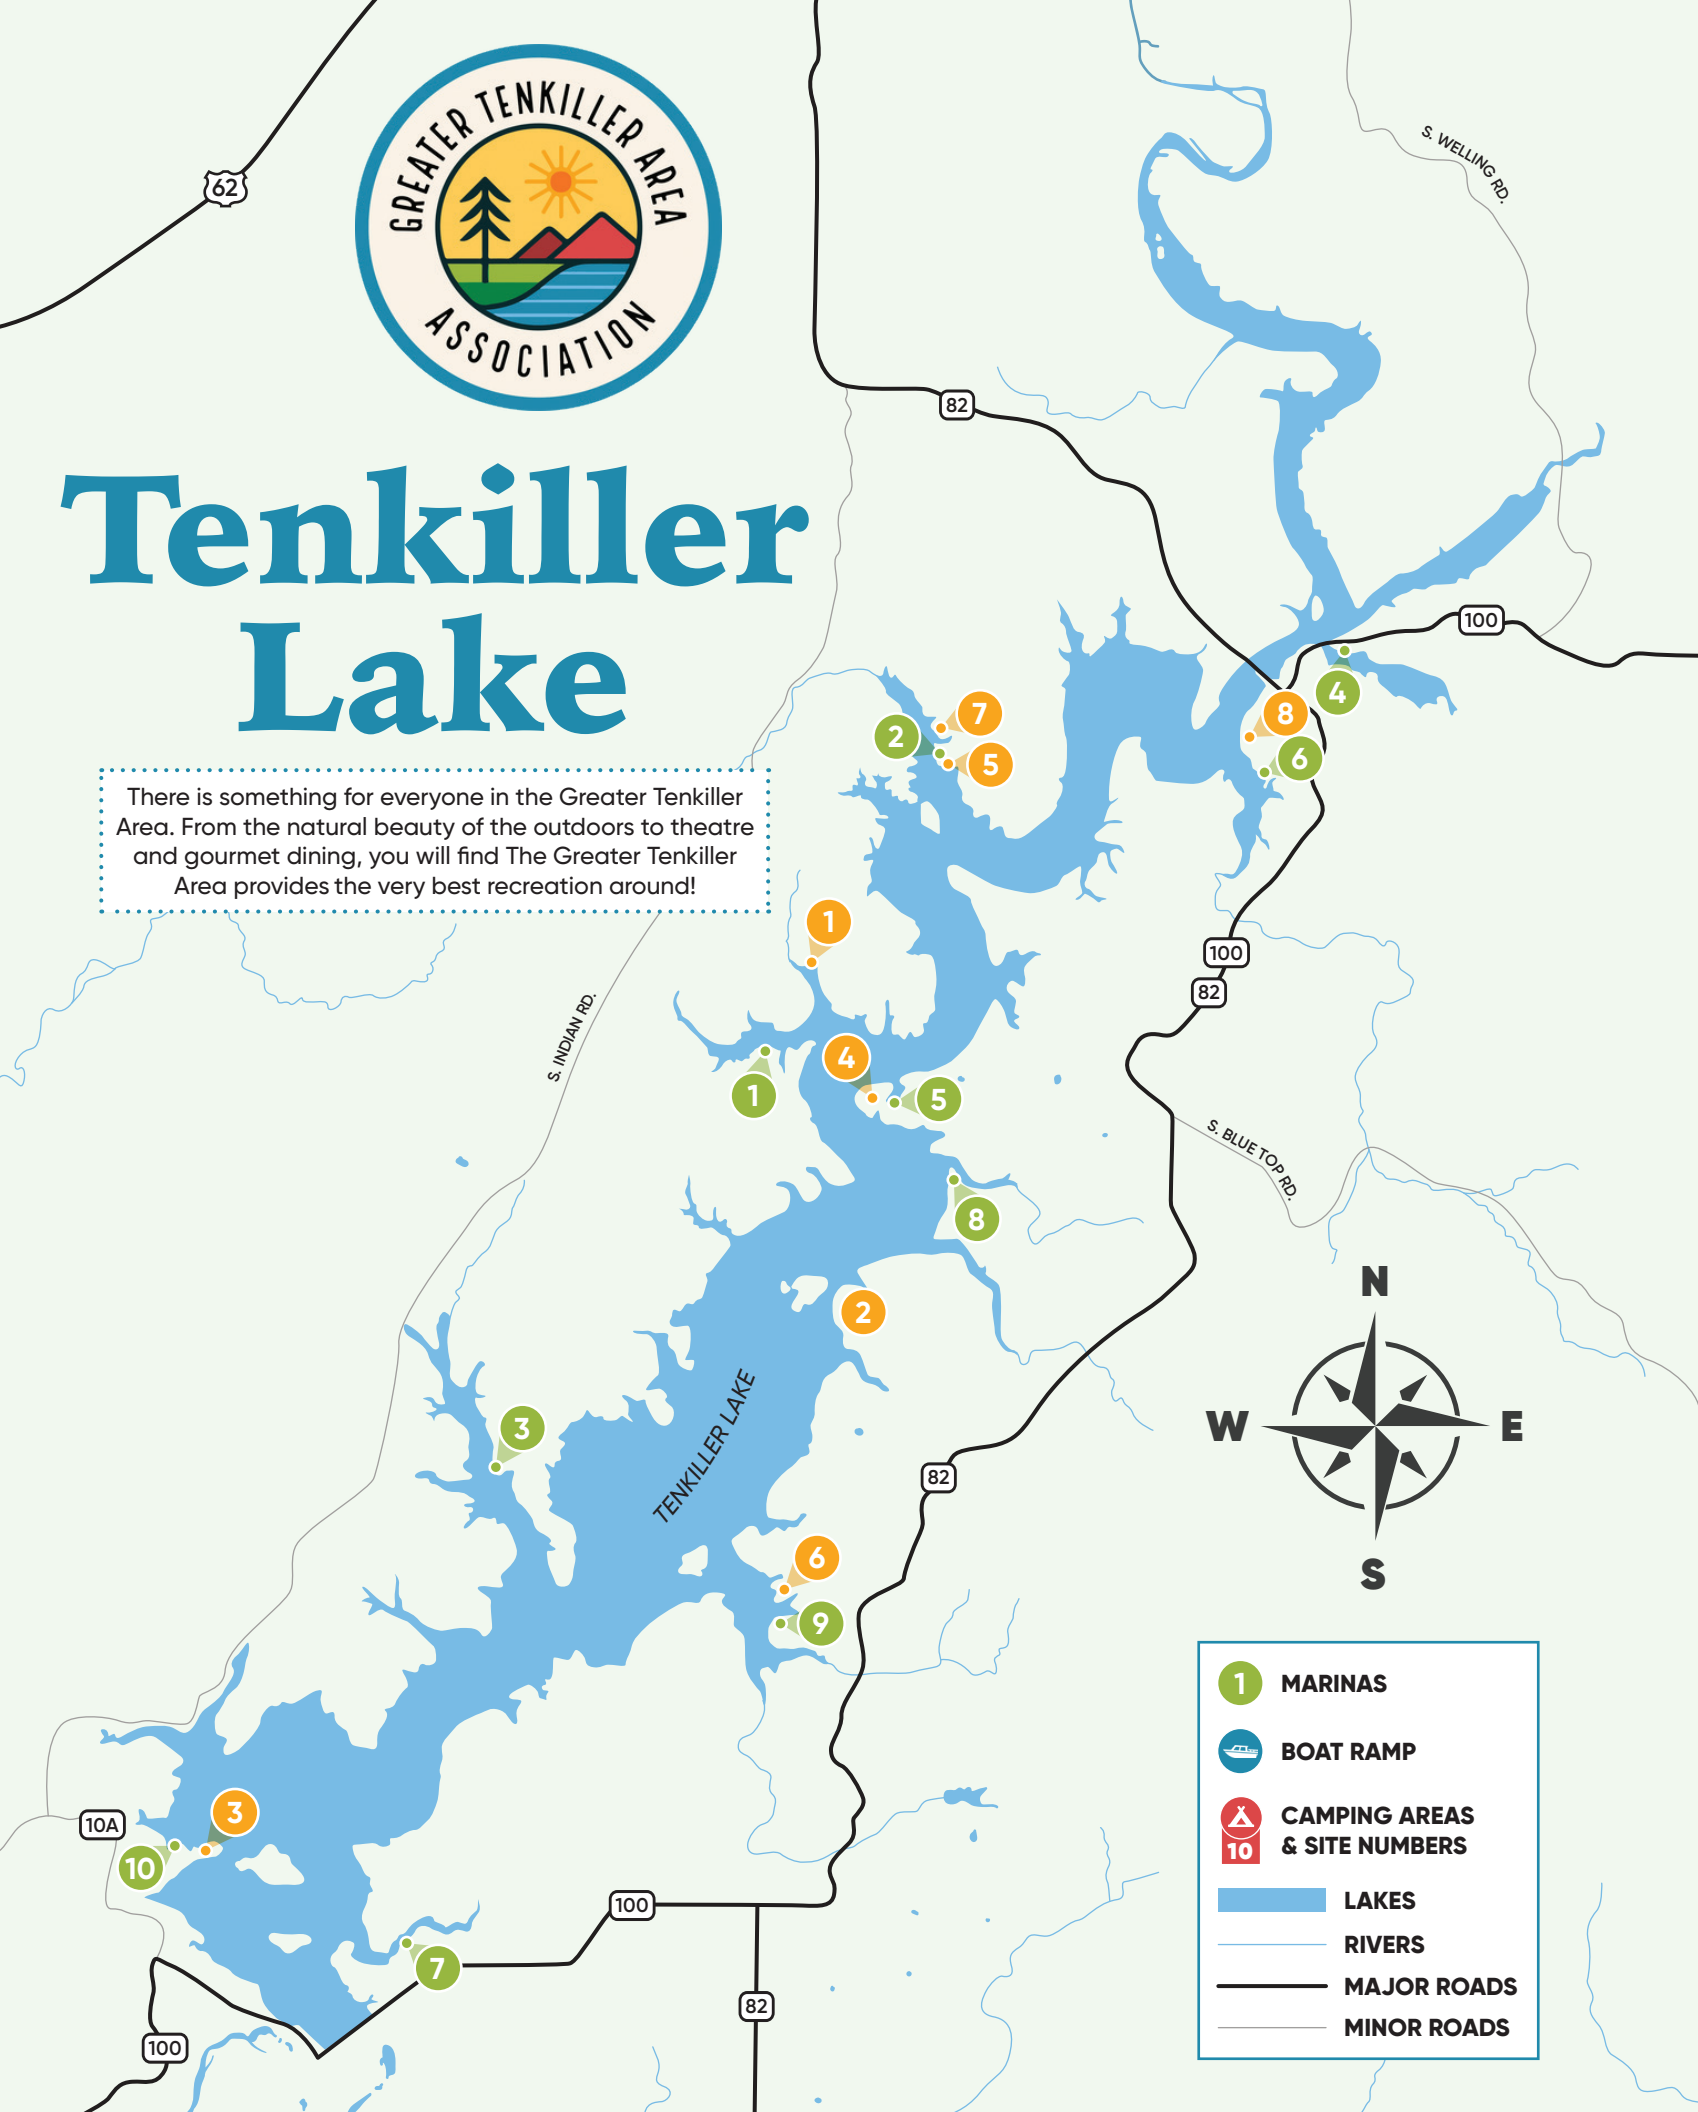

Visitors can find excellent lodging and dining at the many resorts, rental homes, cabins, lodges, restaurants, and bed & breakfasts around the lake. For dining pleasure, there are floating restaurants, as well as a variety of excellent land-based restaurants in the communities surrounding the lake and river - all happy to serve with a smile.

Dive TENKILLER

Lake Tenkiller has been Oklahoma's most popular scuba diving destination since the lake was established in 1954. The clear water and diversity of terrain attracts divers from not only Oklahoma, but the surrounding states and visitors from around the country. While most divers may discover its diversity during scuba certification courses, the attraction for certified divers includes wall dives, multiple islands, and the unknown allure of history!

Lake Tenkiller offers three full-service scuba facilities that offer everything divers need to discover the depths and history, including rental equipment, certification courses, guided dives, and air fills. Tenkiller State Park is a popular destination featuring three locations to explore that offer simple shore entries.

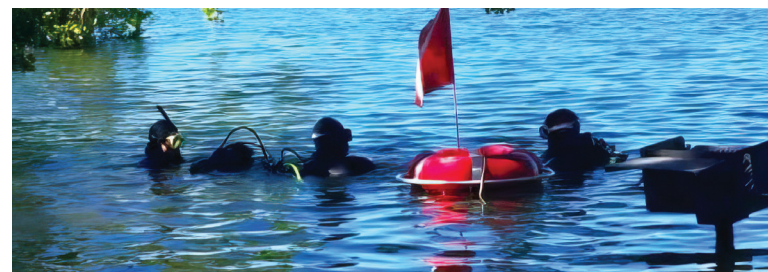

SCUBA PARK

The Tenkiller Scuba Park is the main attraction for scuba divers at Tenkiller State Park. Featuring a multitude of sunken vessels, artifacts, monuments, treasures, trinkets, and lots of fish. The dive park is one of the best dive sites found in Lake Tenkiller. From boats, a bus, a plane, and even a United States Coast Guard helicopter; divers can explore and even swim through the attractions providing a diving experience similar to wreck diving. Established in 2005, Tim Knight, of Nautical Adventures Scuba, worked closely with the Army Corps of Engineers and Tenkiller State Park to provide an attraction for scuba divers to experience the joy of lake diving.

BLUFF VIEW

South of the Dive Park is an area accessible by the Bluff View picnic and camping areas. This location has been a popular training area for Open Water students from around the tri state area. Divers can follow the rocky slopes from one training platform to another before reaching spectacular bluffs near Crappie Point. The bluffs span an area larger than 50 feet across with overhangs as deep as 20 feet. See if you can find the infamous "Buddy Phone" and don't forget to ring the bell on your way out .

HICKORY FLATS

Located across the channel from Fisherman's Point, Hickory Flats offers a dive experience much different from the other two locations. Here divers can find a gradual slope and patchy areas of white sand sprinkled amongst the rocky floor. The main attraction at Hickory Flats are the massive boulders that create small canyons, creating the perfect hiding places for flathead catfish. Tenkiller has something for everyone!

Fun & Adventure UPPER ILLINOIS RIVER

Ever since legislation designated the Illinois River as a scenic river, it has offered visitors an opportunity for fun, adventure and beauty. The clear waters meander through the Ozark hills and provide visitors views of oak and elm and the occasional hickory and cedar.

The majority of the river is easy going, allowing its floaters to relax and enjoy the high bluffs, rocky islands and a medley of wildlife. There are many outfitters along the river that provide canoes, kayaks or rafts. Many of them offer group discounts and lodging. You also can bring your own kayak, canoe or raft and put in at any of the public access points. It is required that you have a User Fee Decal on your boat, which may be purchased at the Oklahoma Scenic Rivers Commission.

Canoeing, kayaking or rafting the Illinois River is not dangerous, but observe all of the safety precautions, wear lifejackets and make yourself aware of the flow and level of the river.

Fishermen enjoy largemouth and small-mouth bass, channel and flathead catfish, walleye and various sunfishes. There are more than 70 species, with a few seasonal varieties. There are a few classes available for fly-fishing, lure tying and guided fishing trips.

GORE

Trout Capital of Oklahoma

Year-round trout fishing and record breaking catches have given Gore the right to lay claim to the title of "Trout Capital of Oklahoma." To check out the Gore claim and enjoy the outdoors while experiencing some terrific fishing, Marval Resort on the Lower Illinois River is the place.

Things to See & Do

THE CHEROKEE ARTS CENTER

The Cherokee Arts Center offers artists a place to meet, share their knowledge and learn new techniques. The creative space can be used for a variety of artistic mediums such as metal smithing, pottery, loom weaving, painting, basket weaving and more. The retail gallery is available to Cherokee artists to have a venue to show and sell their work.

THE THOMPSON HOUSE

The Thompson House is one of nearly 20 properties in and around Tahlequah listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The house was built in 1882 by Johnson Thompson, and the two-story house's architectural style is Queen Anne Carpenter Gothic with Eastlake style interior woodwork.

SPIDER GALLERY

The Spider Gallery displays art by more than 50 Cherokee artists from eight area counties, as well as Alabama, New Mexico and Texas. The works range from traditional pottery, jewelry and paintings to contemporary assemblage sculptures.

JOHN ROSS MUSEUM

The John Ross Museum highlights the life of John Ross, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation for more than 38 years. It houses exhibits and interactive displays on the Trail of Tears, Civil War, the Cherokee Golden Age and the Cherokee Nation's passion for the education of its people. The museum is located adjacent to Ross Cemetery.

THE HUNTER'S HOME

George Murrell built this home in the new Cherokee Nation about 1845, and it is the only remaining ante-bellum home in Oklahoma. The home contains original and period artifacts and furnishings. Several special events are held throughout the year, including ghost stories in October, the 1850s Lawn Social in May and the Victorian Holiday Open House.

FOLIAGE EXCURSIONS

The roads in and around Tahlequah are ablaze with color in the spring and autumn. The Cherokee Hills National Byway, which runs through downtown Tahlequah, is an excellent starting point for whichever direction you decide to take. The Tahlequah Area Tourism Council is always happy to suggest driving routes.

NORTHEASTERN STATE UNIVERSITY SEMINARY HALL

Rich in history and tradition, the university dates back to the founding of the original Cherokee National Female Seminary. After the original Seminary burned on Easter Sunday 1887, construction began on the new building. The majestic building continued as the female seminary until statehood. Now known as Seminary Hall, it is the centerpiece of NSU. In the lobby is a mural, which was commissioned as a WPA project, by the Kiowa Five.

PARKS OFFER VIEWS OF TENKILLER'S WILDLIFE

Sequoyah National Wildlife Refuge is located two miles south of Vian, and is the winter home for nearly one million migratory geese and the bald eagle. Tenkiller State Park Nature Center is open seven days a week during summer. A short nature trail follows a rock bluff by the lake. Guided tours are available. Standing Rock Nature Trail (about 1-1/4 miles) is made up of two loops, each with two segments of shorter trails - Big Pine and Three Sisters on the first loop, and Big Cedar and Hi-Knob on the second. The Buzzard Roost Trail at Cato Creek Landing (1-1/2 miles) winds along a circular path beside a creek. The Overlook Nature Trail is located at the Tenkiller Dam Overlook. The first segment of the trail (1-1/4 miles) winds through the woods from the Overlook to Highway IOA (near the Methodist Boys Ranch). The second segment of the trail continues on from Highway 10A and ends at Strayhorn Public Use Area.

Spring Cleaning and Fall Clean-UP

Since August 2019, Up Tenkiller and the Illinois River is a bi-yearly cleanup event to clean up trash and debris along the shorelines of Lake Tenkiller and the Illinois River. Through the years, natural disasters and human carelessness have blighted the pristine nuance of our rivers and lakes. The initiative of the clean-up is to restore the beauty of the waters and shorelines that we claim as our own.

Arkansas River

RIVER PROVIDES CHANCE TO VIEW WILDLIFE

WEBBERS FALLS
 Webbers Falls Lock and Dam is located on the Arkansas River near the towns of Gore and Webbers Falls. An observation platform and visitors facilities are located at the Dam, and visitors may watch the lockage of barges and pleasure craft. On a bluff above the powerhouse is a scenic overlook where you may view the lock and dam and a large area of the lake. Sportspeople will find recreation opportunities at Webbers Falls Lake. The predominate species of fish are catfish, white bass, black bass, crappie, bream, walleye, sauger, buffalo, carp and a rapidly growing population of striped bass. For more information, contact the Corps of Engineers, Webbers Falls Lock and Dam at (918) 487-5252.

SEQUOYAH NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE
 Sequoyah National Wildlife Refuge is located on the Arkansas River between Gore and Vian. Nestled in the gently rolling foothills of the Ozark Mountains, Sequoyah National Wildlife Refuge is home to wildlife as unique as the bald eagle and as elusive as the bobcat. Fertile bottom lands at the confluence of the Arkansas and Canadian Rivers make this refuge a terrific wildlife viewing destination. The refuge was established in 1970 to provide habitat for waterfowl and other migratory birds and to provide food and cover for resident wildlife. For more information, contact Sequoyah National Wildlife Refuge at (918) 773-5251.

Lake Communities

COOKSON
 The town took its name from Jack Cookson, who operated the local post office from his home before statehood. Cookson was on the shore of the Illinois River, near Cookson Bluff. One of the first buildings was the Ballew Brothers' Store. They supplied locals with everything from food to guns and tools. Several of the structures from the town were moved to higher ground. Among these were the old store and several small cabins, which were relocated to their present location on Highway 82 in Cookson. Several structures from the old town could not be moved and were left behind at the bottom of the lake. They now are a popular underwater destination for scuba divers.

SALLISAW
 Sallisaw, the county seat of Sequoyah County, is located at the southern edge of the famed Cookson Hills, and near the navigation channel of the Arkansas River. Its name is from the French "salaisiau" meaning "salt provision." Native Americans, explorers, trappers and early settlers were familiar with the natural salt deposits found near area streams. For more information, contact the Sallisaw Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 251, 301 E. Cherokee Ave., Sallisaw, OK 74955. The phone number is (918) 775-2558.

KEYS
 The Keys community is located south of Tahlequah at the junction of Oklahoma State Highway 82, which traverses the east side of the lake, and Indian Road, which traverses the west side. Because of its location as a gateway to both sides of Lake Tenkiller, Keys is a focal point for a variety of businesses, including convenience stores, banks, restaurants, hair/nail salons, real estate agencies, churches, a donut shop, boat repair shop, auto repair shop, hotel, agriculture and feed store and Jimmy Houston's Outdoor Store.

VIAN
 Vian began as a trading post in the mid 1800s and was established as a town in 1902. No one is sure where the name Vian came from, but one popular version is that the town was named after an early settler, George Vi. The second syllable, 'an' was added making it Vian, which in the Cherokee language means "garfish." Vi'an is located nine miles south of Lake Tenkiller on Oklahoma State Highway 82 and just off Interstate 40. For information, contact the Vian Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 687, 603 N. Thornton St., Vian, OK 74962 or phone (918) 773-5446.
